

Postponement of the 27th American Peptide Symposium until June 11-16, 2022

The COVID-19 pandemic has had a profound impact on the peptide science community. Given the uncertainty of how soon things will return to back to some semblance of normality and our desire to prioritize the safety of delegates of the American Peptide Symposium, we have decided to postpone the 2021 meeting and reschedule it for the same week in 2022 (June 11-16) at the same spectacular mountain resort town of Whistler, British Columbia. That decision was made in consultation with the APS president and members of the APS executive committee. We believe this should position us to have an exciting meeting that will be widely attended in 2022. We look forward to updating you with additional information as soon as it becomes available.

We wish all of you good health at this difficult time and look forward to seeing many of you in 2022!

Regards,
Mark Distefano and Les Miranda
